Koru Venture Partners
Managing Partner
August 2012 - February 2013 (7 months)

Koru Venture Partners is an asset based lending fund that provides technology companies with capital in the form of patent backed loans.

Koru Venture Partners offers mid and late stage technology companies an innovative way of leveraging their patents without risking them in litigation or losing a strategic advantage by selling. Companies can now take advantage of an attractive new source of funding at competitive terms compared with traditional capital providers.

The investment team is comprised of world-renowned experts in patent valuation, brokerage, and monetization, as well as investment banking and venture lending. The team has a strong track record, deep domain experience and comprehensive, long-tenured venture and patent industry relationships.

In February 2013 Koru Venture Partners was integrated into Fortress Investment Group.
